Stain removal

Contrary to common belief stains from everyday common beverages such as tea and coffee can, in most cases, be removed. The same is true of even more stubborn stains that can be left from makeup and even rust from leaking radiators or dropped and trodden-in chewing gum! Do you really want to leave such unsightly stains for customers to find, or having to resort to hiding them with objects. Be aware that doing nothing could have an adverse affect on the image of your business to existing customers and employees and even potential customers and employees alike.

Without removal, stains to flooring and furnishings can become permanent if left without professional attention. They have the potential to impact on your business and leaving a treatment too late can result in costly refurbishment of replacement.

Odour removal

Stains are one thing, but unpleasant smelling odours in what might appear to be the cleanest of area can be even more off-putting customers and employees and even potential customers and employees alike. Even some of foulest of odours from dogs / cats, urine and vomit can be removed. But of course we would hope you would not need ours services for the latter two!

Upholstery

Suites, Chesterfields, chaise lounges, dining chairs etc upholstered in most materials clean up surpassingly from a professional clean. Periodic cleaning can help to revive their appearance and extend their useful working life – saving money on refurbishment or replacement.

Leather

One area we do specialise in is the professional cleaning of leather upholstery. Did you now that around 95% of leathers are cleanable? Even those with pigmented skins or semi-aniline, common in today's households.

The cleaning programme we would recommend is to:

1. deep-clean to release any dirt present within the skin.
2. nourishing and protecting, to revive softness, using a superior leather 'feed'
3. finally, a seal and shine to revive appearance.

Curtains and walls

Dry Kleen is a specially formulated odourless solvent for we use with on-site machine dry cleaning of curtains; it can even be used to dry clean upholstery / wall fabrics, etc.

A dry cleaning service is usually the most appropriate for curtains and wall coverings.

Carpets and rugs

Total carpet cleaning are specialist cleaners of Axminsters, Wiltons, Belgium Wiltons, Acrilian and Meraklon carpeting. We also clean carpets and carpet tiles manufactured from nylons, viscose / rayon and many more.

We can also clean all types of rugs and carpeting (Persian, Chinese, Indian).

Total Carpet Cleaning uses one of the most advanced hot water extraction machines on the market. It uses a power scrubber, cleaning both sides of a carpet with a twin vac which also leaves the carpet dryer than most other machines. We also have turbo carpet dryers. These can leave carpets almost dry, often more convenient for customers who need a carpeted area back in use in the shortest possible time.
